With the support of our entire team of wellness experts, we will plan the rhythm of your stay, beginning to new beginning. From gentle questions to understand your needs and desires before you arrive, to layers of support throughout every experience, Paths of Intention intertwine activities, Nest services, meals and, of course, plenty of Mother Nature.

Allow us to hold space for you to immerse and emerge anew.

New Beginnings

This path is a dive into movement, nutrition, sleep and daily rhythms to support a life well lived. Let our wellness experts offer detailed orientation and guidance for strengthening pillars of health specific to your daily life. This path will encompass the nourishment of your body, mind and spirit utilizing holistic practices that you can incorporate into your life long after your time at the Mountain ends.

Burnout

Sprints are hard, fast and sometimes fun, but they are certainly not meant to be a sustainable speed. Burning our energy at a sprint pace for too long calls for pause and a deep inhale. Take a moment for yourself. Dive into longevity practices. This path allows time for you to explore Blackberry Mountain, eat nourishing food, rest, be cared for and to fully refresh. Your agenda will be customized to create a sustainable rhythm and reset your nervous system. This immersion is a balanced experience of adventure and rest.

My Journey

Journeys are personal. We want to guide you on a path that fits the needs of your present. When one of the others doesn't quite fit, we will work with you to design an individualized immersion that addresses exactly what you are seeking.
